▲ A SHORT NOTE

We didn't bring a sales pitch.

We brought your website.

Thank you for making time to meet us.

We are KiwiBytes, a small freelance web team. Grana already has what people love: Neapolitan pizza from the orange-tiled, wood-fired oven, an open kitchen on 1st Cross Road, boxes that say "It's all about the base!", and even a pookalam that spelled Gran-Onam. What it doesn't have yet is a home of its own online.

So instead of slides about what a website could be, we built the real thing, made only for Grana. It is finished, it works on every phone, tablet and computer, and it is ready to go live with your own menu and photos.

Along with the website, we are offering one full year of SEO: steady work that helps Grana show up when people in Kochi search Google for pizza.

Right now, other websites tell your story.

When someone searches “Grana Pizzeria Kochi” or “pizza in Panampilly Nagar”, they find you on Google Maps, Zomato, Swiggy, Justdial and food blogs. These help, but none of them belong to you. You can’t choose the photos, the menu may be missing or old, and your story gets lost between hundreds of other places.

1. Search
“Best pizza near me”

2. Look
Photos, pizzas and prices

3. Check
Open now? Where is it?

4. Visit or order
Call, takeaway or directions

This is how guests choose where to eat. Your website answers all four, in one place you own.

No home of your own
Today guests only see what other sites decide to show about Grana.

The menu is hard to find
Most people want to see the pizzas and the prices before they walk in or order.

Easy to miss
A proper website makes a place look trusted, and helps Google show it more often.

▲ THE HOME PAGE

Built from scratch, only for Grana.

1 Your logo, front and centre
Guests are welcomed by your logo, GRANA PIZZERIA in big letters, and a pizza that rolls in.

2 A live “Open now” sign
Works on Kochi time: open now, closing soon, or opens at 12.

3 One-tap call
On a phone, one tap rings 081293 40091 for takeaway.

4 Menu, one click away
Guests go straight from “hungry” to “what should I order?”

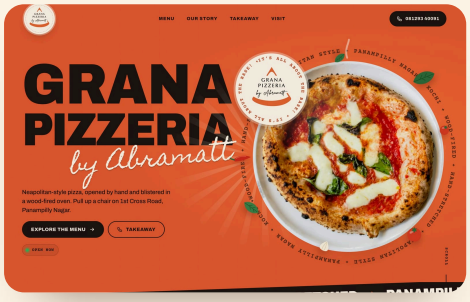

The real website, as it looks on a laptop today. Turn the page to scroll through it.

your colours, your logo ↑

One page, the whole Grana story.

Guests simply scroll. In under a minute they see your pizza, how it's made, what people love, your hours and where to find you, told like a story instead of a list.

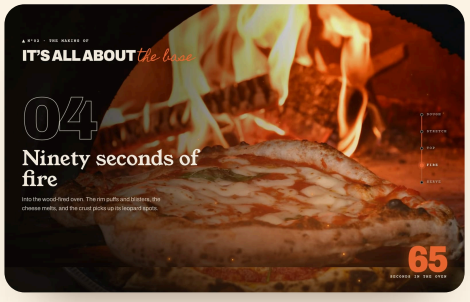

01 The welcome

Your logo, then the pizza rolls in.

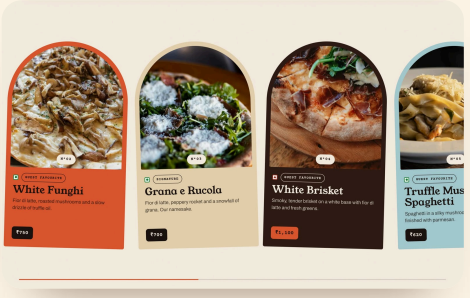

02 Your story

A warm intro that lights up word by word.

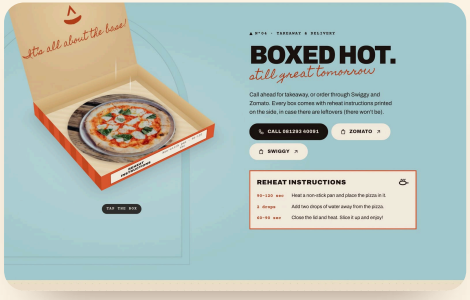

03 The making of

Real photos, from dough ball to fire.

04 Signature dishes

The ones Kochi keeps ordering.

05 The Grana box

Opens as you scroll, with reheat tips.

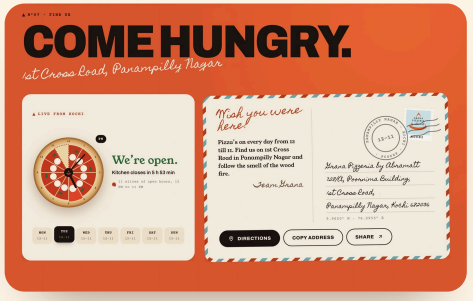

06 Life at Grana

Your own photos, as polaroids to drag.

07 The guestbook

Ratings, and what guests praise most.

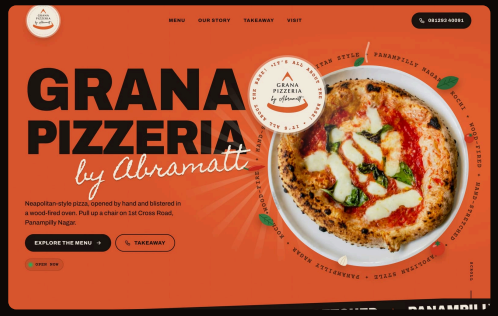

08 Come visit

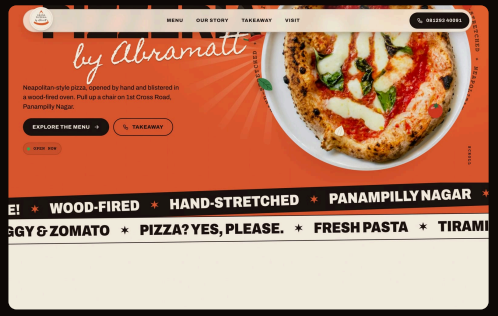

Live pizza clock, address card and map.

Paper can’t show it, so here it is, frame by frame.

The website is alive. Things roll, open and glow as guests scroll. It is the kind of experience usually seen only on big restaurant brand websites, and it still opens quickly on a phone.

Frame 1

The welcome

Your logo stamps in, then the shutter lifts.

Frame 2

The pizza rolls in

Letters flip up and the ingredients fly in.

Frame 3

Words part, pizza turns

As guests scroll, the words slide apart and the pizza spins.

Frame 4

Into the kitchen

Real photos wipe in, one chapter after another.

AND ALL THROUGH THE SITE

For anyone who turns off animations on their phone, the site stays calm and simple. We respect that setting.

- A welcome screen with your logo
- Pizza that tilts with the mouse
- A 90-second oven timer
- A pizza box that opens as you scroll
- Polaroids you can drag
- Buttons that lean toward the mouse
- Tapes that speed up as you scroll
- Photos that fade in, never flash

It's all about the base.

So we show it being made.

As guests scroll, real photos of a pizza being made slide in one after another: the dough, the stretch, the tomato, the fire and the finished pie. An oven timer counts to ninety. In ten seconds, every guest understands why a Grana pizza tastes the way it does.

01

THE DOUGH

It starts with a ball of dough.

Soft, rested and full of air.

03

TOMATO & FIOR DI LATTE

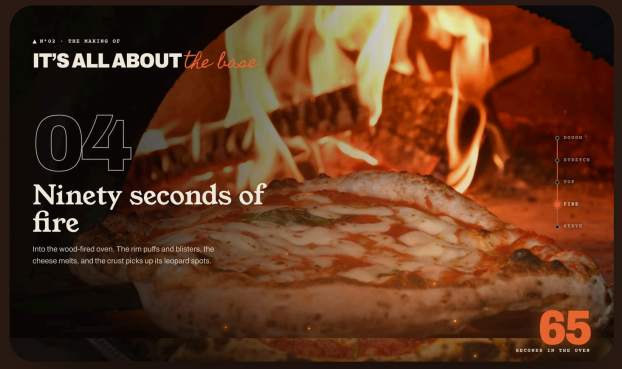

Just enough, never too much.

A thin spiral of tomato, then torn mozzarella.

90s

INTO THE FIRE

Ninety seconds of fire.

The rim puffs, blisters and gets its leopard spots.

▲ ITS OWN PAGE

A menu guests can see, before they taste.

A full menu page with a photo for every dish, so guests arrive (or order) already knowing what they want.

40 dishes in 8 sections: pizza rossa, pizza bianca, pasta and more.

Tap a dish, see it big
A close-up card with the description, price and a call button.

Veg / non-veg filter + search
One tap shows only veg dishes; type “truffle” to find it.

A floating bar
Jump between the eight menu sections in one tap.

Easy to change
New pizza or new price? We update it for you.

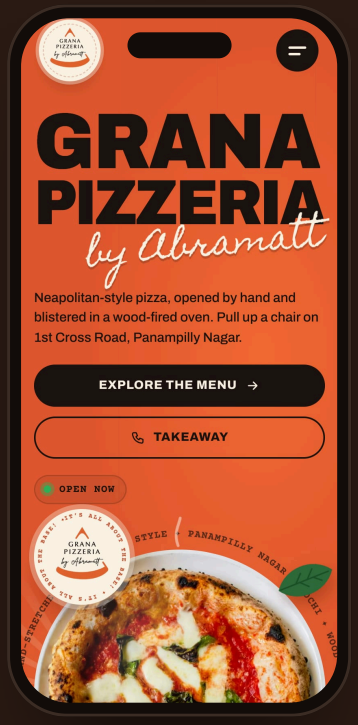

note Some dishes and prices in this preview are examples. Before launch we will put in your real menu, your prices and your own photos.

Veg Non-veg Indian food marks on every dish

Most guests will meet you on their phone.

Someone walking down Panampilly Avenue. A family deciding on dinner from the sofa. They will open your website on a phone or a tablet. So every section was designed again for small screens: big text, big buttons, nothing to pinch or zoom, and smooth scrolling on iPhone, Android and iPad.

An honest note about this preview

We built this before our meeting, using public information about Grana. Real photos from your Instagram already appear on the site, but the dish photos and the making-of photos are stock images used as placeholders, and some menu items and prices are examples. Before launch, everything on the site will be Grana's own: your dishes, your prices, your photos.

Thank you.

Let's open the doors online.

Grana already wins people over one slice at a time. Let's make it just as easy to find, and just as hard to forget, online.

Made by hand
